I hereby register for the event called TRACKS6000 of km 160 and 6200 metres of positive height gain (+/- 20%), organised in Val Campelle, SCURELLE (TN), by ASD TRACKS, with headquarters in Borgo Valsugana (TN), Viale Roma n. 1/B, on 16/07/2022,

DECLARES that

- to wish to join, as a non-competitive sympathising member, the ASD Tracks, based in Borgo Valsugana (TN), Viale Roma n. 1/B, and to wish to join the MSP (Movimento Sportivo Popolare), a sports promotion body recognised by CONI;
- have taken note that the event in which they are taking part is a non-competitive endurance event of considerable mental and physical effort (even extreme) and without rankings;
- To be currently in excellent physical condition and without any apparent contraindications. You must be in such good physical condition as to be able to carry out this cycling tour (Tracks6000) in complete safety;
- be aware that, being an off-road mountain track, which will be followed by each participant by means of a GPS track provided by the organisation (to be loaded, at the sole care of each participant, onto a suitable device not provided by the organisation itself), some stretches of the route may be particularly rough and uneven so as to have to be covered on foot, even for long stretches, pushing the vehicle, both uphill and downhill. In these stretches, and in any case along the whole route, an excellent riding technique is required (failing which the participant, at his own discretion, will overcome the difficult stretch by getting off the bike and proceeding on foot or changing route);
- tackling demanding sections of the route (steps, walkways, climbing up hillsides, fording streams, banks and embankments of streams, paths with significant gradients, steep descents, etc.) with the utmost caution without endangering oneself or other cyclists or avoiding them by choosing on one's own initiative alternative routes that one considers safer for one's own safety;
- be aware and accept the fact that the route runs along ridges and exposed points and that, consequently, straying from the route and/or falling, even along the route itself, can be very dangerous and even fatal;
- be aware and accept the fact that there may be fallen trees and dangerous trees along the route and outside the route, the overcoming or falling of which could prove very dangerous and even fatal;
- be aware and accept the circumstance that there may be forestry sites along the route that inhibit transit, both on foot and with mechanical means. In such cases, as well as in all other cases considered dangerous and/or contrary to the Highway Code, the participant will vary the route at his own discretion;
- be aware of and accept the fact that the entire route takes place at high altitude and in a mountain environment, even a severe one, with technical and exposed stretches, both uphill and downhill, with the possibility of severe weather conditions. In order to tackle the route, which also involves many hours in the saddle and possible night rides, it is therefore necessary to have specific skills and abilities, both physical, mental and technical.
- to be a member of an ASD regularly affiliated with a CONI-recognised body and therefore to have deposited with the club with which he/she is registered the original certificate of fitness to practise competitive sport, or sport with a high cardiovascular commitment, in the sport of cycling, as governed by the Ministerial Decree of 24/04/2013 and/or the Ministerial Decree of 18/02/1982, attaching a copy of the aforementioned certificate to the present disclaimer, or
- not to be a member of an ASD and to participate in a "free" manner in the aforementioned cycling excursion (Tracks6000) enclosing with this declaration a copy of the certificate of fitness for the practice of competitive sport or of particular and high cardiovascular commitment in the sport of cycling, pursuant to art. 4 and conforming to the Mod "D" as per DM 24/04/2013 and/or DM 18/2/1982, issued by a doctor specialised in sports medicine, declaring that the same is in conformity with the original one possessed and that it has been reconfirmed today to the organisation;
- be in possession of an R.C. insurance policy by means of a licence/card issued by an ASD company affiliated to a recognised organisation, and/or in any case be covered by a personal insurance policy, which guarantees adequate cover for any damage occurring during participation in this cycling excursion (Tracks6000);
- having read and taken note of the route itinerary, its altitude, the programme, the timetable for passing through the various controls in relation to the weather and road conditions which may be difficult (sun, wind, rain, hail, lightning, cold, night, darkness, fog, snow, ice, whirlwinds, unattended and/or wild animals, etc.);
- be fully aware of the rules of the Road Traffic Act and undertake to comply with them, avoiding any infringement;
- having read, understood and complied with all the information and regulations concerning the organisation of the cycling trip (Tracks6000) disseminated through documents, brochures and the website www.tracks6000.com;
- have received instructions and rules to be observed with regard to the COVID-19 pandemic from the person in charge of the event;
- not to use doping or drugs or medicines or any substance that may alter sporting performance or otherwise lead to situations of harm or danger to themselves or others;
- accept in full the Tracks6000 Rules attached hereto and countersigned. Without reservation;
- to be aware of and to approve that: the participants will be considered "participants" in the event from the actual moment of departure, fixed for 7.30 a.m. on July 16 2022 (except for unforeseeable time shifts as of today), until their actual arrival at Rifugio Carlettini, Val Campelle, Scurelle (TN) - the same place where the departure took place - or, in case of non-arrival, until the moment of their withdrawal communication to be sent, exclusively by sms (no phone calls, no whatsapp), to the number 339 8075925. In the absence of communication of withdrawal, for all legal purposes and so also for any insurance purposes, the member shall be considered in any case ceased from the quality and qualification of "participant" and "member" if, within 100 hours from the start, he does not arrive at the Rifugio Carlettini, Val Campelle, Scurelle (TN), the same place where the start took place. The event will therefore end definitively, in any case, 100 hours after the start.
